Introduction

The aim of this document is to provide guidance to schools that want to become members of the Graduate Management Admission Council (“GMAC” or “The Council”).

The Graduate Management Admission Council (GMAC) is a mission-driven association of leading graduate business schools worldwide. GMAC provides world-class research, industry conferences, recruiting tools, and assessments for the graduate management education industry, as well as resources, events, and services that help guide candidates through their higher education journey. Owned and administered by GMAC, the Graduate Management Admission Test™ (GMAT™) exam is the most widely used graduate business school assessment.

More than 12 million prospective students a year trust GMAC’s websites, including mba.com, to learn about MBA and business master’s programs, connect with schools around the world, prepare and register for exams and get advice on successfully applying to MBA and business master’s programs. BusinessBecause and The GMAC Tour are subsidiaries of GMAC, a global organization with offices in China, India, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

Objective of Membership

Membership enables GMAC to leverage the influence, insights, and resources of the industry to deliver on its mission of providing impactful products and services that allow schools and candidates to discover and evaluate each other.

Criteria and Eligibility

Members of The Council form a network of institutions that are committed to maintaining and enhancing the quality of management education and are open to the exchange of ideas and best practices to serve the collective interests of management education worldwide. Membership in GMAC is school-based and is open to institutions that maintain a selective admissions process and offer a master’s program in business administration or management subjects or equivalent. In order to support the mission of The Council, member schools are expected to use, and ideally prefer, the GMAT exam or other GMAC assessment as a part of their admissions and enrollment processes for their graduate management programs.

Membership in The Council is at the sole discretion of the GMAC Board of Directors. In its evaluation of potential members, the Board is guided by an interest in maintaining a membership that is representative of quality business schools throughout the world that support The Council’s mission. Numerous factors are considered when assessing applications, including the strategic objectives of The Council; the prospective school’s alignment with the membership’s principles; the size and global coverage of membership; The Council’s ability to absorb new member schools; and other considerations established by the Board from time to time. In order to be eligible for GMAC membership, an institution should typically be considered an educational organization, governmental entity, or equivalent. A prospective member school must be able to award degrees and be accredited by a relevant accreditation agency or alternatively provide evidence that its programs meet generally accepted standards of high quality in the field of management education. The criteria also include the prospective member school's demonstrated support of GMAC's mission through the use of its products and services. GMAC reserves the right to deny membership to any prospective member school if it does not meet the criteria described in this Membership Policy.

The Board's decision is final.
